Micropore Filtration

Sponsors of the book: Fundamentals of Particle Technology

The production costs of this book have been subsidised by the generous support of Micropore Filtration, specialists in particle separation and classification.

Micropore specialise in microporous filtration media designed to separate and classify particles a few microns and above in diameter. They also supply media for other operations in particle technology. For more details see:

http://www.microporefiltration.co.uk